

2008 National Collegiate Taekwondo Team Trials 1

On May 17, 2008 in Denver, Colorado, the National Collegiate Taekwondo Association will host the 2008 United States national collegiate team trials for those people who have qualified for the event. Qualified athletes include all four black belt sparring medalists from the 2008 NCTA Championships, and the 2007 US collegiate team member. All athletes are only eligible to compete in the weight division in which they qualified. Those people who have qualified for more than one weight division must register for the weight division in which they are going to compete. This will be a double elimination tournament.
