GENERAL INFORMATION

The University of California Berkeley Martial Arts Program is proud to host The 1st Pan-American University Taekwondo Championship and its sister tournament, the 1st Open Division Pan-American University Taekwondo Championship in Berkeley, California, United States, in 2009 under the auspices of the University of California, Berkeley.

THE LOCATION

The San Francisco Bay Area

Berkeley, California is inclined on oak- and redwood-covered hills seven miles east of San Francisco and touches the San Francisco Bay. The San Francisco Bay Area is the second most popular tourist destination in the world. San Francisco is famous for the Golden Gate Bridge, rolling hills, clanging cable cars, decadent Ghirardelli chocolate, curvy Lombard Street, vibrant Chinatown, and Fishermen's Wharf. The bay is dotted with several islands, including Angel, Treasure, Yerba Buena, and Alcatraz (the most visited national monument). Silicon Valley--home to over 90% of the world's computer-related companies--is one hour southwest of Berkeley, and picturesque Santa Cruz, Monterey, Carmel, and Big Sur are just a bit farther south. The Napa Valley, famous for its quaint towns, bed-and-breakfast inns, and wineries, is an hour and half north. Lake Tahoe and the Sierra Nevada Mountains are a three-hour drive east.

Berkeley and the University of California, Berkeley

The City of Berkeley is a university town and home to the University of California at Berkeley, the oldest and largest of nine campuses in the University of California system. The campus is surrounded by wooded, rolling hills and by the city of Berkeley (population 106,500), "the Athens of the West". Berkeley has a long history as one of America's most lively, culturally diverse, and politically adventurous cities. The campus itself has an interesting history and tradition.

Berkeley Today...

South Hall, the oaks along Strawberry Creek, and the eucalyptus grove link Berkeley to its beginnings over a century ago. While the campus has grown considerably since then, it has retained much of the tranquil beauty of its rural past and is now a park-like oasis in an urban setting. Students study, work, and relax among neoclassical buildings, wooded glens, and parklands spread across 1,232 scenic acres overlooking the San Francisco Bay.

Today, with 35,000 students, a distinguished faculty, nearly 300-degree programs, and alumni in positions of national and international leadership, Berkeley today is a large and complex institution, offering students a vast range of scholarly endeavors and a wide area for personal growth. The University of California at Berkeley is one of the world's leading intellectual centers.

The campus is renowned for the size and quality of its libraries and laboratories, the scope of its research and publications, and the distinction of its faculty and students. National rankings place Berkeley as an elite research and academic institution. US News and World Report consistently rates Berkeley the top public undergraduate university in the United States and is the only university in the United States to achieve a top 5 ranking in every one of its PhD programs. The faculty includes 10 Nobel laureates, 198 members of the American Academy of Arts & Sciences, 121 members of the National Academy of Science, a Poet Laureate emeritus of the United States, and 140 Guggenheim

Fellows. The quality of Berkeley's diverse and independent student body complements the excellence of its faculty. While most students are Californians, every state and more than 100 foreign countries are represented on campus. The student body is often characterized by its diversity; no one racial or ethnic group constitutes a majority. Berkeley students represent all age groups, and economic, cultural, and geographic backgrounds. The dynamic mix produces a wide range of opinion and perspective essential to a great university. More Berkeley alumni go on to complete their PhDs than any other post-secondary institution in the United States.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA MARTIAL ARTS PROGRAM

A prominent feature of the University of California at Berkeley, the UC Martial Arts Program (UCMAP) is an expanding, dynamic organization dedicated to providing outstanding martial arts instruction to the campus community. Under the guidance of dedicated individuals such as Dr. Henry Stone, who introduced Judo to UC Berkeley in the 1930s, and Dr. Kyung Ho (Ken) Min, the founder and technical director emeritus of the present martial arts program, UCMAP has grown into an organization that is recognized throughout the world and is a model for other universities.

Since its inception in 1969, UCMAP has developed and hosted countless tournaments to challenge practitioners in martial arts such as taekwondo, judo, yongmudo, and wushu. These four arts are all taught at UCMAP by high-ranking instructors in their particular martial arts, many of whom are themselves students of Dr. Min, whose qualifications (9th Dan Taekwondo, 9th Dan Judo, 9th Dan Yongmudo, and 3rd Dan Kendo) have elevated UCMAP to its present status.

UCMAP's long history of successful tournament hosting involves martial arts events of all kinds, from small-scale local tournaments to multiday international affairs. UCMAP's first tournament, the 1st UC Open Taekwondo Championship, will be celebrating its 40th anniversary in 2009, and expects upwards of 1000 competitors. Dr. Min was a key figure in developing the National Collegiate Taekwondo Championship, which UCMAP has hosted six times, most recently in 2005. He was also responsible for the premiere of the FISU-sponsored World University Taekwondo Championship in 1986, which UCMAP also hosted in 2002. In addition to hosting the National Collegiate Judo Championship several times, UCMAP has developed two other annual Martial Arts events: a Chinese martial arts tournament and a Yongmudo championship. Both events continue to grow each year.

2009 Pan-Am University Taekwondo Championship Site Information

The "Walter A. Haas, Jr. Pavilion," a new 12,300-seat stadium, will be the primary facility for the championship. The Pavilion includes a weight training center, a new sports medicine complex, a 400-meter track, an international-size soccer field, lounge and study areas, in addition to concessions and related facilities. The Haas Pavilion floor measures 110 ft. by 60 ft. It is served by ten (10) locker rooms. A warm-up area is available to competitors in the Pavilion, as is a practice area and a swimming pool in the adjoining "Recreational Sports Facility" (RSF). These facilities are located less than 0.2 mile (300 m) from the proposed accommodation sites for competitors and officials.

The University of California, Berkeley Martial Art Program possesses top quality equipment in accordance with the International Federation rules. Athletes will be provided with chest protectors; they will be required to provide for their own head gear and other individual protective gear.

The competition site will be the main floor of the Haas Pavilion on the UC Berkeley campus. With the lower seating extended, the main floor accommodates a full size basketball court, with some addition space about its periphery. In this configuration, the floor will accommodate 2 full sized taekwondo competition rings, with seating for approximately 12,500 spectators. With all of the lower stands retracted, the floor will accommodate 6 full sized taekwondo rings, with seating for approximately 11,000 spectators. It is anticipated that 3 12mx12m regulation sized rings will be required for a 4- day event; therefore a portion of the lower seating section will be extended. The extended lower section will be used for VIP seating. All matches will be run according to the latest WTF rules and regulations.

Athlete Housing:

The athletes will be housed in Unit 3 and Cleary Hall. We have reserved 400 beds as of now and we have the opportunity to add or drop that number as we see fit. The precise floors and halls have yet to be determined. We are also trying to finalize the details.

Transportation

Berkeley/San Francisco is served by two international airports, the San Francisco International Airport - known as the "gateway to the Pacific" because it is the principal point of departure from the U.S. to Pacific-Rim countries – and the Oakland International Airport. The first offers port to almost 50 major national and international carriers, including American Airlines, British Airways, Delta, Japan Airlines, Mexicana, Phillipine, and United. The city enjoys the train service of Amtrak.

Berkeley/San Francisco is served by both a local rail system Bay Area Rapid Transit (BART) and an extensive bus network. Ample private car (taxi and car rental) service is also available.

Competitors and officials will be provided with shuttle service from the airport to their accommodations. Shuttle service from accommodations to the competition site will also be available. Service to and from the competition site should prove superfluous, however, as competitors and officials will be housed within very easy walking distance of all championship facilities.

In order to reduce the travel expenses of the delegations as much as possible, the following arrangements are anticipated: local shuttle service will be provided at no cost to the delegations; negotiations are under way to secure group-rate, reduced-price airline tickets from the major U.S.-based carriers; assistance to the various delegations from Berkeley/San Francisco co-national will be solicited.

Medical Services

Femininity control and doping control will be performed in accordance with the regulations of the FISU and the relevant FSI and in conformity with U .S. Olympic Committee protocols. Such control will be under the charge of Dr. Patrick Haynard in conjunction with the medical staff of the University's Health Service.

The cooperation of the University Health Services and local hospital networks, including Alta Bates, allows us to assure sufficient medical assistance for the whole organization. Such service will include emergency medical assistance (first aid) and hospital care. Hospital transportation will be provided by ambulance, should it be necessary. Helicopter service is not called for, as the local area is home to world-class physicians and facilities.

Security

Security of the participants at the accommodation sites will be under the supervision of the University of California Police. All entrances and exits will be strictly controlled 24 hours a day. Security at the competition site will be augmented by a local company "CSC," which enjoys the confidence of the University.

The Berkeley campus has a dedicated full-service police department with 77 officers. UCPD located close to the tournament site, has primary law enforcement jurisdiction on the campus and on associated university properties. UCPD will coordinate closely with the City of Berkeley Police Department operating joint patrol programs in the tournament site area and communicating at the levels to ensure the effective provision of police services during the 2009 Pan-Am University Taekwondo Championship.

Electronic Scoring

Six Electronic Scoreboards will be available for use at the 2009 Championships. The system has gone through quality assurance and quality control testing and utilized in the last UC Open and the NCTA tournament hosted by Berkeley. The scoreboard has the ability to track scores and penalties and even follows the new WTF scoring change. It has the ability to score 1 or 2 points.

Press Radio and Television

Coverage of the championship by local and national broadcast (radio and television) and print media will be coordinated in conjunction with the University Public Relations and Event Management Departments.

Cultural Activities

Berkeley/San Francisco is one of the cultural capitals of the world. Walking tours of the area will be scheduled, as will visits to local points of interest, including museums and theatrical and musical performances. Stops can include, among other places: Alcatraz and Angel Islands; Ghirardelli Square; Golden Gate Bridge and Park; the Strybing Arboretum and Botanical Gardens; the Ansel Adams Center for Photography in the world renowned Center for the Arts at Yerba Buena Gardens, M.H. de Young Memorial Museum, San Francisco Museum of Modern Art; the Aquarium and Exploratorium, and the California Academy of Sciences. Concert and dance performance tickets can also be made available to competitors, officials, and guests. Biking and driving tours of California's famed Napa Valley wineries can also be arranged.
